AN Inspirational Chapter Of Your Life that Stands Out

Building a sourcing office from Scratch was both challenging and rewarding. In my role as a Sourcing/Country Manager, I started our office in a co-working space and, in less than ten years, managed to grow our turnover to approximately 100 million dollars. This journey involved successfully overcoming complex legal and financial scenarios and requirements, building a talented team, forming crucial international partnerships, and developing effective sourcing strategies.

This chapter in my life me and others realize the significance vision, determination, and adaptability in achieving remarkable business milestones. I hope it inspires others to pursue their dreams in the industry and work with determination to achieve milestones and make a name for themselves in this fashion industry.
